SUBJECT | Increase synergies

United Heavy Lift and Ocean7 Projects follow up Joint Office in Norway with new Location in Malaysia

Hamburg. The two experienced, internationally renowned players in the market for heavy sea transport are expanding their sphere of influence by opening another office in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, similar to the one opened in Norway earlier this year.

The new Malaysia office will be run by Managing Partner Rune Larsen, who will be supported by Skyler Teh and Catherine Hybel. The transport specialists will be represented in Asia by people who already are very familiar with the local market.

Director and Partner at United Heavy Lift, Lars Bonnesen, who himself worked in Kuala Lumpur in the 90's, expressed his excitement: „Rune is an old colleague of mine. I'm very happy about being able to work with him again.“

Jesper Henriksen, Director and Partner at Ocean7 Projects, added: „ We are quite excited to see United O7 Asia take off bringing us a step closer to the many loyal clients in Asia Pacific region through a very experienced local team starting from 5th of November.

Since the United O7 Asia office will be in charge of the entire Ocean7 Projects and United Heavy Lift fleet the specialists for the transport of heavy, project and breakbulk cargo hope that the Asian location will receive the same support by their customers that other locations have done in the past.
